ISN'T IT TRUE?

A baseball player dropped a fly.
A baseball fan went "nutty."
And jeered and shrieked and sneered at him.
"Old Mutt, your hands are putty."
The baseball player after that,
Played like a regular terror,
But still the fan kept harping on
That one unfortunate error.

That baseball fan next day at work,
Was adding up his column.
It was a strenuous job and he
Was very sad and solemn;
In spite of all the care he took,
He made his totals wrongly.
The boss jumped on him with both feet,
And cursed him loud and strongly.

He thought the boss was not quite fair,
To blame him for one blunder—
But did he think how he abused
The player? Ah, I wonder!
All human beings make mistakes,
So why should we be sneering;
In baseball, or the game of life,
Let's save our strength for cheering.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR—1948

Audrey Wagner hails from Bensenville, Ill. where she learned her baseball at an early age. She started with the Kenosha Comets when the League was formed in 1943. At that time she was only 15 years old. While she did not lead in as many departments in 1948 as in 1947, she led the batting race from the very start and finished the season with a creditable mark of .312. She established a new all time record for hits in one season with 130. Wagner holds the all time League record for two base hits in one season. She holds the lifetime record (5 years or more) for doubles, triples and extra base hits.

Audrey graduated from high school two years ago and has been attending college as a premedical student.

BASEBALL GLOSSARY

STRIKE: A ball swung at and missed; a foul ball—one hit outside the fair markings on the field—also is a strike; a pitch thrown over home plate, in the area between the shoulder and the knees is considered a strike even if the batter does NOT swing at it. Three strikes and the batter is out.

BALL: A pitch thrown wide of the mark—that is, outside the area between the shoulder and knees and not over home plate.

WALK: Four balls constitute a walk and the batter automatically takes his base. If the batter is hit by the ball, he also "walks" his base.

OUT: When a player does not reach a base before the ball reaches the player stationed at that base; when the batter flies out; when he strikes out; when he is tagged out; a batting team is allowed three outs, then the other side comes to bat.

FLY: A ball hit in the air and caught before it reaches the ground to make an out.

TWO-BAGGER OR DOUBLE: A safe hit which enables a batter to reach second. Thus a one-bagger, or single, gets you to first base; a three-bagger or triple gets you to third.

ERROR: A mistake on the part of the defensive player which permits a batter or runner to reach a base safely; such as dropping a fly that is an easy chance; letting a ball go through the legs; dropping a thrown ball, etc.

BATTING AVERAGE: The gauge by which players are judged. An average of .300 or over is good and means that the player has hit safely in at least three out of ten tries for an extended number of games. Batting over .400 in the big leagues is exceptional and Rogers Hornsby, in 1924, set the record of .424.

SEVENTH INNING STRETCH: A traditional custom wherein the crowd arises to cheer its favorites in the seventh inning. You stand only for your own favorite.

LOADING THE BASES: An expression meaning that a man has safely reached first, thereby putting men on all the bases. (Only one man may be stationed on a base at a time.)

DOUBLE PLAY: When two men of a team go out on a single play. Once in a great while, there is a masterpiece like a triple play.

STOLEN BASE: When a runner suddenly, on his own initiative and without benefit of a hit by a member of his own team or an error by a member of the opposing team, darts from one base to another.

ISN'T IT TRUE?

A baseball player dropped a fly,
A baseball fan went "nutty."
And jeered and shrieked and sneered at him,
"Old Mutt, your hands are putty."
The baseball player after that,
Played like a regular terror,
But still the fan kept harping on
That one unfortunate error.

That baseball fan next day at work,
Was adding up his column,
It was a strenuous job and he
Was very sad and solemn;
In spite of all the care he took,
He made his totals wrongly.
The boss jumped on him with both feet,
And cussed him loud and strongly.

He thought the boss was not quite fair,
To blame him for one blunder—
But did he think how he abused
The player? Ah, I wonder!
A human beings make mistakes,
So why should we be sneering;
In baseball, or the game of life,
Let's save our strength for cheering.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR—1948

Audrey Wagner hails from Bensenville, Ill. where she learned her baseball at an early age. She started with the Kenosha Comets when the League was formed in 1943. At that time she was only 15 years old. While she did not lead in as many departments in 1948 as in 1947, she led the batting race from the very start and finished the season with a creditable mark of .312. She established a new all time record for hits in one season with 130. Wagner holds the all time League record for two base hits in one season. She holds the lifetime record (5 years or more) for doubles, triples and extra base hits.

Audrey graduated from high school two years ago and has been attending college as a premedical student.

BASEBALL GLOSSARY

STRIKE: A ball swung at and missed; a foul ball—one hit outside the fair markings on the field—also is a strike; a pitch thrown over home plate, in the area between the shoulder and the knees is considered a strike even if the batter does NOT swing at it. Three strikes and the batter is out.

BALL: A pitch thrown wide of the mark—that is, outside the area between the shoulder and knees and not over home plate.

WALK: Four balls constitute a walk and the batter automatically takes his base. If the batter is hit by the ball, he also "walks" his base.

OUT: When a player does not reach a base before the ball reaches the player stationed at that base; when the batter flies out; when he strikes out; when he is tagged out; a batting team is allowed three outs, then the other side comes to bat.

FLY: A ball hit in the air and caught before it reaches the ground to make an out.

TWO-BAGGER OR DOUBLE: A safe hit which enables a batter to reach second. Thus a one-bagger, or single, gets you to first base; a three-bagger or triple gets you to third.

ERROR: A mistake on the part of the defensive player which permits a batter or runner to reach a base safely; such as dropping a fly that is an easy chance; letting a ball go through the legs; dropping a thrown ball, etc.

BATTING AVERAGE: The gauge by which players are judged. An average of 300 or over is good and means that the player has hit safely in at least three out of ten tries for an extended number of games. Batting over .400 in the big leagues is exceptional and Rogers Hornsby, in 1924, set the record of .424.

SEVENTH INNING STRETCH: A traditional custom wherein the crowd arises to cheer its favorites in the seventh inning. You stand only for your own favorite.

LOADING THE BASES: An expression meaning that a man has safely reached first, thereby putting men on all the bases. (Only one man may be stationed on a base at a time.)

DOUBLE PLAY: When two men of a team go out on a single play. Once in a great while, there is a masterpiece like a triple play.

STOLEN BASE: When a runner suddenly, on his own initiative and without benefit of a hit by a member of his own team or an error by a member of the opposing team, darts from one base to another.
